NATURAL MIND EDUCATION

Langhorne Boy of 17 Makes 2000 Bricks a Day, and Writes 2000 Words on Philosophy.

The most remarkable feat in "higher" education in Bucks county is being carried out by a Langhorne boy of about sixteen years, who is making two thousand bricks a day in the Langhorne brick yard. He recently expressed to Prof. Henry Guy Walters, president of the Bucks county Progressive League, his desire to study philosophy.

The boy's father owns the Langhorne brick yard. The boy has been in the brick yard since he was ten years old. He has been making bricks for the last five years.

The boy's instructor in philosophy, Prof. Henry Guy Walters, is a well known philosopher and has been teaching philosophy for many years. He has been teaching philosophy at the Langhorne brick yard for the last five years.
